Take a curriculum,

The heart of knowledge, a good library

The efficient reflection of good business training

Never forgetting that the main purpose of our high school years is the pursuit of knowledge, Randolph High School sets before its students on invitation to learning. Whether our talents lead us to science, language, business, government, art or homemaking, they are all there, opening for us every day of our lives new doorways to a better future.

touching the needs of each individual

Add fun, the spice of the memory...

A boisterous mob, cheering its team to victory . . .
dreamy dancers moving across the gym floor . . .
applauding our Oracle Queen . . . it's the parties, the rallies, the proms . . . the shiny thread woven through every memory of our four years . . . shared and remembered — FUN.

Honor in the making . . . preview of that moment in May . . . hushed audience, secret envelope, the joyous grasp of Randolph's "Oscar" . . . Randies . . . created by our art students, awarded by a discerning faculty . . . the pinnacle of academic achievement at R. H. S.

Morning vigil . . . guardians of the bus program . . . Key Club strong-arms . . . a whole school gathered to face the day, and avoid the cold . . . disciplined by themselves . . . "Blessed are the Peacemakers."

The tap of the typewriter keys . . . the click of the adding machines . . . Here the secretaries, stenographers and office workers of the future learn all that modern business will ask of them.

Result.. Learning, Friendship and Service

And now our experiences in high school will be tested to their fullest. Learning, sportsmanship, fun and friendship will all be carried with us through these doors into a world of competition, trials and challenges. We pause at the threshold for our last look back. Good-bye seniors, "this is your life."

Dedicated to...

Mrs. Elizabeth Tierney

With a sincere love for her students, her work and her associates, she has guided us through our most important years. Many of us remember the warmth of kindly instruction and understanding she gave us as we struggled through the elementary grades that led to this goal we share with her, our graduation.

Recognizing and remembering her devotion to our every need, her unfeigned smile, her interest in every one of us, the seniors of 1959 dedicate this ORACLE with deep appreciation and heartfelt affection to our gracious lady and our friend, Mrs. Elizabeth Tierney.

The record of your joyful, carefree, high school career is contained within the pages of this book, the 1959 ORACLE. Your life, academically and socially, is pictured for you to recall the happiness and enthusiasm you displayed for the many wonderful moments we spent at R. H. S.

The birth of an ORACLE is an accumulation of many events. The bustle to have pictures taken properly, the tiring search for Senior Quotes, the sacrificed lunch and free periods to sell pledges, dead-lines, and countless crises all combine to produce one complete product, the ORACLE of 1959.

Thus, as our yearbook goes to press, our literary, production, business, art, and photography staffs have completed their tasks, but the memories which they have brought to life will last forever.

FACULTY

As we stand in the doorway, our first tribute of memory goes back to our guides along the way, our teachers . . . ploughed by our excuses, devoted to our cause . . . our terrestrial guardian angels . . . advisors for our activities . . . may our futures reflect the ideals they have taught us . . . our faculty.

From our principal...

Principal's Message To The Graduates

Now that the full force of world attention has been focused on American education, you have been placed in a position ever more prominent than the graduates before you.

You are the products of our educational system, our graduates. Your successes, your citizenship and your character will become daily evidence of the worth of your training here.

We do not expect you all to be stars of the scientific age. However we hope to find you the responsible adults of the future, loyal to the country, which has given you citizenship, interested in the career for which you have been prepared, and faithful to the highest standards of living among your fellow men.

This June you have arrived at your first big milestone, the end of your high school education. This is no small accomplishment, and we are all proud of you. Although you take your place among hundreds of alumni, each one of you has an individual share in that pride, as well as in my congratulations and wishes for your success.

CLASSES

These are the faces we will remember best . . . those who ran beside us one minute before the bell . . . those who dreaded report cards, waited for lunch, planned the next dance . . . from the first, frightened Freshman moments to this last look back . . . we salute as we "remember when", our friends.

Talking over prom plans, Roberta Hemenway, secretary, Richie Alden, president, Peggy Williams, treasurer and Roger Gale, vice-president begin a class meeting.

Seniors who led and served us well...

The ability to select wise and conscientious leaders is a lesson in living, and we believe we have learned it well. These were our choice; these are our best. With their qualities of unselfishness, citizenship and responsibility they represent us here and to the future. By using our best judgment in choosing them, we have prepared ourselves for the time when we will choose our political leaders in an adult world. The members of the class of 1959 are proud to have followed them, proud in our remembering to praise and thank . . . our leaders.

Jockie Anderson, Joe Gill, Bill Kelly and Borboro Troverse work with Student Council Advisor, Mr. Santry.

SEPTEMBER

Remembering when...

The end is in sight. June, 1959.

Challenges, problems, fun, competition, sportsmanship . . . all have made up these four unforgettable years, our high school education.

At times the obstacles were rough; at times, easy . . . but always it was school, our familiar world, populated by fellow strugglers and teachers who were surprisingly human. Now as graduating seniors, it is time to glance back and relive in memory the years behind us.

Remember when we were Freshmen, new to the life of high school, terrified by the sight of Seniors and trying not to think about all that homework that the high school teachers were supposed to give? Think back to that first day. We cautiously manouvered our way through the unaccustomed mob to our first period class. Alone now, after eight years in the same room with our friends, we were not quite sure of ourselves. The Seniors were the shepherds and we the sheep in that noisy second-floor pasture and 1959 was a million years away. Ah, to be Seniors then! What problems we had carrying all those books around . . . first year Latin . . . Algebra . . . Miss McGerrigle said it would be like this. Remember going to our first real High School dance, Friday morning rallies, figuring out TWO lunches? That was the first year that Randy statuettes were given . . . May . . . We had survived after all.

It was a long hot summer, a drought, but we were off the ground and when September came there was someone to look down on.

We were Sophomores. Sydney Carton was a favorite in Miss Kelley's and Miss FitzGerald's class . . . and everyone could say "Friends, Romans, countrymen" after a while. Randolph High held its first Science Fair . . . the rash of moon rockets, the carefully displayed projects painstakingly assembled, those coveted awards . . . "wait 'till next year".

And when it came, we were Juniors. Upper-classmen! Untouchables! The superior half with half the job done, somehow. We were sophisticated and amused by the Junior High Schoolers that we used to be, busy with shorthand, Physics and class rings. But what a fall! The flu bug bit with all its fury, remember? Football schedules scrambled . . . everyone played but the band . . . but we won the Conference Championship . . . field hockey was wiped out . . . classes three-quarters empty.

It was slow in starting, but what a year! First the Football championship, then we took a prize in the Massachusetts High School Drama Festival and Frank Roberts '58 placed in the Regional Cast. The Music Department came up with its new triumph, The Randolph High School Dance Band, an instantaneous hit at all the concerts . . . and the girls' basketball team played ten games, undefeated and untied. Honor fell upon honor when our '58 Oracle editor, Richard Vogel, went on to win the State Science Fair and Randolph's National Honor Society admitted one boy, Jimmy Truelson, to its ranks, with fifteen girls.

Remembering... the Junior Dance...

And then, our Junior Dance . . . Miss Getch's hard work with her committee and the oriental paradise they produced. Remember walking over the little bridge into all that calor? And now the preparations for Senior Week meant something to us . . . we were next. The voting for class officers, the picking of cheerleader captain . . . for the class of '59, our class . . . at long last.

It seems as we "remember when" that this final year flew faster than all the rest . . . Miss Galvin was back "home" in 216 and we were remembering lines . . . Chemistry lab became our personal danger zone . . . Sonto's Dream was greeted with a blizzard . . . the Christmas Assembly and first Student Council Decoration contest . . . would our pictures be back for Christmas? How would the class standings come out . . . "have you been accepted, yet?" . . . vocabulary, analogies, the weapons of those mighty monsters, The College Boards . . . the first Oracle Dance and the springtime trip to New York for the editors. And now, after waiting so long, its all a part of the memory . . . the banquet, the prom, the beach parties, even the yearbook autographs.

the Christmas Assembly...the College Boards

It's all over . . . the climb that looked impossible, the books we never thought we'd get through, the exams we could never pass. Of course, we're proud . . . proud and happy to be a part of the success we have watched and envied in those before us. But, in a way, we are a little sad. Parting must not be confused with forgetting. As we say good-bye, we know we will remember forever, the good that we have learned, the teachers we have known, the friends and fun we have shared. And who can blame us if, as we stop for a moment here to look back and remember, we say in our hearts, "Oh, to be Freshmen again."

THE EIGHTH GRADE

Almost Freshmen! Already we've seen you assume some of the responsibilities of self-government; watching your own conduct in the auditorium every noon-time without teachers, for example. We remember that getting through your studies isn't easy on the afternoon shift. Miss McCarthy, Miss McGerrigle and Mrs. Kenney know what WORK means, don't they? You've picked up Mr. Clark's enthusiasm for science, brought your problems to Mr. Brennan and been the lucky charges of an understanding Miss Good. All that and you could sleep in the morning! The seniors wish you luck when you climb the stairs to Senior High.

Eighth graders look forward to presentation of the Mikado.

Mr. Blackden demonstrates proper position for free throw.

Mr. Clark traces Jupiter's orbit.

Seventh Grade Honor Students were K. Ekman, M. Fox, L. Hoed, and N. Fine.

THE SEVENTH GRADE

The shock of our big, noisy school has almost worn off now. At first our "morning citizens" of the first floor seemed to be in imminent danger of death by trampling, but it wasn't long before their orderly lines became part of the atmosphere of home. From the poems with Miss Murphy and the jokes with

Mr. Hayes to the wonders — and terrors around report card time? — of science with Mr. Quegan, our youngest members have gained the airs, and the troubles, of the long struggle toward graduation. Know something? We thought it was long when we were there too.

You're sitting in my seat!!

ACTIVITIES

The hustle and bustle of A period . . . the distant harmonizing of the chorus . . . busy Banner reporters running to and fro . . . our life together outside of class . . . these are the activities that taught us to work together for our school and our own social development . . . we remember them one by one . . . symbols of service.

KEY CLUB

One of our newest organizations, The Key Club, is a proud "first" for 1959. Membership is gained by election. The Student Council chooses among the many applicants those juniors and seniors who not only uphold the standards and ideals of Randolph High School, but do that special something extra.

CITIZENS OF THE MONTH

As a tribute to those students who give of their own time to further the good name of their school, the Student Council has originated its award-winning "Student of the month" program. Outstanding students who have contributed time, ideas and effort toward the promotion of particular activities or school-wide programs are selected by the Student Council.

Seated: P. Briggs, B. Traverse, R. Hemenway, J. Gill. Standing: B. Bee-craft, W. Kelly.

An award from the National Association of Student Councils every year . . . spirit-building from the monthly attendance badges to the new Christmas decoration contest, Teacher Appreciation Day or the so successful Student Teacher Day. Remember how our "leaders of tomorrow" found out that it's not as easy as it looks to educate us. Thank you Student Council for giving us every moment the right to be proud.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Seated: M. Bosworth, B. Troverse, B. Kelly, Mr. Sontry, Advisor, J. Gill, J. Anderson, E. Leahy. Standing: R. Michaelson, J. Johnston, T. Gollogher, F. Esposito, R. Szum, W. Coulfield, M. Brodil, J. McNeil, N. Silson.

BOOSTERS CLUB

Backing the 16-member Council in "boosting" the school, our Booster Club, inaugurated in 1955 has been cited notionally for its work in maintaining student loyalty.

All the World's a Stage...

This was a big year for the thespians of R.H.S. Miss Kelley, long the director and inspiration of our dramatic talent, returned to take over the '59 activities. Our December production of Time Out For Ginger was a three-act Christmas present of complete hilarity. Remember Carolyn in that football uniform? And of course, the teachers' Scholarship Play, The Matchmaker! Miss Kelley directed and starred in that one. Mr. White's beard had us wondering for weeks. And that WAS ginger ale, wasn't it? Being hosts to the Massachusetts State Drama Festival Preliminaries was our big moment. We presented The Death of the Hired Man and entertained our visiting casts. We not only cheered Newton and Sharon who won, but followed them to the State Finals and promised we'd be right up there in '60.

Miss Kelley helps with the make-up at the Drama Festival.

THE BLUE AND WHITE BANNER

Ever since 1952, when under the leadership of Miss Faley, The Blue and White Banner first sent the news of our school across the world to our boys, then at war, "Banner Day" has been a big event at Randolph High. Workers came from every course and level; readers, from the greenest seventh grader to the busiest senior. Our sports, projects, spirit, manners, and gossip find faithful representation. "Banners will go on sale . . ." That's the voice of R.H.S.

"Brainstorming" at a staff meeting. Miss Foley and Banner members work up a new issue.

"Now on the scholarship program . . ." Margo Sargman gets a story from the Student Council Representatives.

Floor: Clark, Jahnsan, Bell, Gambell, Tower, Grace, Gaade, Fahey, Ebbs. Table: Childs, reporter, Kalenawski, Secretary, Richards, treasurer, Powers, Secretary, Nordahl, President, Miss Schamer, Advisor, MacDonald, song leader, Black, State Song Leader, Wilbur, historian, Hutsan, Freshman representative. Row 3: Belmante, Halbrook, LaBree, McPhee, Magnussen, Halmes, Hultzen, Rigley, Canrad, Farrell, Bates, Tanszuck, Keddy, Anderson, Hayes. Last Row: Anderson, Freeman, Galway, Nelson, Seive, Clifford, Leighton McGowan, Galan.

Everyone, perhaps, would like to promote neighborliness, good citizenship, better family living and community participation, but this is the business of the F. H. A., and a business that they conduct with thoroughness, eagerness and charm. Randolph High is proud, but not surprised that we have three State officers this year. Judy McGibbon is president, Gail McHarrie, Secretary and Moureen Block, Song leader on the State Board of officers. We will have a representative at the National Convention in Chicago. Activities during the year have included Career Night with a panel of returning graduates, Christmas carols at the Home for the Aged and initiation.

F.H.A.

F.H.A. girls are never without a project for the happiness and betterment of others. Here Judy McGibbon, State F.H.A. president consults with Randolph's president Anita Nordahl as the committee gets to work.

R.H.S. BAND AND CHORUS

Music has always been one of Randolph's biggest prides and the tradition has endured and grown in '58 and '59. Besides appearing at all our games and rallies with new routines every week, our band participated at half-time at the Boston University-Syracuse game last fall, appeared in the Southeastern Band Festival at Dedham and sent members to play in S.E.M.S.B.A., at Veterans' Hospitals and parades. The Chorus, equally well traveled, not only entertained us at The Christmas Assembly and Spring Concert but sent members to sing in the All State Chorus, The South-Eastern District Festival and even sang at the Thanksgiving game! Big first of 1959 was The Mikado, Gilbert and Sullivan operetta.

First Row: B. Johnson, M. Bosworth, J. Myers, C. Childs, J. Fradus, Mr. Lacey, advisor, J. Anderson, C. Buba, S. Dean, J. Evans, C. Grahame, M. Galway. Second Row: M. Teed, E. Hill, N. TWIRLERS

Head Twirler, Peggy Williams and Drum Majorette, Betty Lienard kneel before twirlers J. Shea, E. Leahy, P. Tardiff, C. Doyle, L. Burke, M. Pignatelli, E. Harris, I. Sears.

With shining batons and smiles to match our twirlers were out there in front of the band at every game and rally, twisting and spinning in their well-practiced formations, whipping up our spirit and our pride in R.H.S. A symbol of '59 will always be Peggy's own red-haired sunshine before her precision corps, the surprise of the jaunty new sailor uniforms in the fall and memorable Lienard grin flashing from the fifty yard line.

It was only last year that the R.H.S. Dance Band broke upon the scene with its near-professional rhythms, surprising and delighting all of us with a new kind of entertainment from the music department. It was at the big Junior Dance held by the class of '59 that Randolphites discovered the real talents of their new group and at Santa's Dream Dance, the Senior's own Christmas Dance, their return performance assured them a lasting place among our all-time-favorites.

THE ORACLE

Nine hard-working editors, a great big staff with an important job for every member . . . a dream that begins in September and grows through lost lunch periods, study hall periods, after school hours, weekends, vacations . . . lighted by dozens of popping flashbulbs . . . smothered in ideas culled from conventions, other schools, endless meetings . . . this is the ORACLE . . . record of our four years' "where will we get the money?" . . . "I want twenty posters TODAY" . . . "run off fifteen hundred copies" . . . exhausted but triumphant the ORACLE staff presents 1959 to those who made it happen, sure that no one lived it or enjoyed it more than these seniors who recorded it day by day.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Now that the whole world is more conscious of the value of students who truly pursue an education in school, and who succeed, those chosen for The National Honor Society attain an even more illustrious position in our school program. Surely, we will never forget the candlelight ceremony, the banquets, the solemn pledge or the applause. Neither will we forget that the students who wear the small golden emblem have met our highest academic requirements and have been approved as fitting representatives of the National Honor Society's ideals of Character, Scholarship, Service and Leadership.

SPORTS

Is there a sound more wonderful, a moment more memorable . . . hundreds of voices swelling up from the stands . . . the long, long run, the impossible pass . . . frantic cheerleaders . . . victory songs . . . it was here on the field of play that we learned to take it, to work together with all our might . . . to feel a loyalty that may never be surpassed . . . Sports means more than the game . . . it means a lesson in life.

1st row: J. Hause, J. Gill, B. Bennett, J. Moder, R. Gole, W. Kelly, M. Griffin, E. MacDonald, R. Gale, R. Pantius.

After winning the championship last year, the 1958 football came back this year to finish a good season with five victories and three defeats. We could not be prouder of this year's team for they showed that they had the spirit and tremendous urge to win that is so necessary. We will always remember the "never die" attitude of our team throughout the season. After losing an important game to Whitman, the team bounced back to defeat Rackland and Silver Lake.

Why did you do that? Come on, go get them!

Touchdown!

Losing to Plymouth in the last seconds of the game would have been enough to break any team's spirit, but our boys came back to defeat Abington and fight a valiant battle against Oliver Ames at Thanksgiving.

To Co-Captains, Roger Gale and Bill Kelly, and to Phil Carlino, the supervisors and spark plugs, we give a vote of thanks for a job well done and to the rest of the team, thanks, you were just great. Congrats also to our superb coaches, Mr. Bernardo and head coach Mr. Saba.

Catch it!

Philip M. Saba, head coach of football.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Top this!

This year Randolph High School produced its finest basketball team in recent years under the patient and expert coaching of John Silk. Randolph compiled an excellent 15-3 record. This team qualified to play in the Tech Tourney but in the first game bowed to Sacred Heart by two points. Our squad is young and should go a long way in the coming years. There are only three Seniors on the team: Captain Dick Pontius, Bob Brodil and Paul Kelleher. The other players, who are all Juniors are: Phil Carlino, Joe Zapustas, Bob DiSimone, Roger Kelleher, Joe Burns, Jimmy Robinson, Bernie White, Pete MacGibbon, Bruce Perry, and Gary Elliott.

It's a cinch

BASEBALL

When we emerge from the winter snaws, our '58 champion baseball team will be all set to encore its successes of last year. Returning lettermen are Billy Kelly, catcher, Bernard Bennet, second base, Bab Bradil, third base, "Pancha", left field, Phil Carlina, right field and Richie Alden, center field. Joe Zapustas will be back as pitcher. Randolph faces an eighteen game season as defending co-champion of the Hackamack League. We're looking to last year's record of 11 and 3 that sent us to represent the league in the Massachusetts State Baseball Taurney, and haping to make it a bigger and better record in '59. With Mr. O'Brien behind us, wha can lose?

Bill and Dick start training for spring baseball.

Bob and Butch get a little infield practice.

Get ready, on your mark, go!

And they're off!

CROSS COUNTRY—First row: J. Mahoney, W. Crayton, M. Lyons, T. Berryman, J. Willis. Second row: Mr. Pistone, advisor, E. Stracque, F. McFadden, P. Troy, D. Welch, H. Williams.

TRACK

Our new track coach, Mr. Pistone was the Cross Country and Track Captain at Tufts last year. His enthusiasm and experience has already rubbed off on Randolph hopefuls. Many of us can testify to this as we sat during A period or on those rare afternoons when we were confined after the two-fifteen bell and watched the strange trotting parade go round and round the "islands" on Memorial Drive. Combining track and baseball with weight exercises and running is the ambitious idea of the coaches who tell us that the outlook is promising for spring athletics. Olympics, here we come!

Row 1: J. Maria, E. Moder, B. Hannigan, J. Bur-
wood, M. Ebbs, J. Clark,
J. Bustard; row 2: P.

san, G. C a c h r o n e, A.
Robison, D. Corey, J. Anderson and S. Klein beside Miss Ryan.

Every fall along with the red leaves and the first homework comes the swirl of dust from the field hockey team. And the girls are ot it ogoin! This year there was no in-between. Experienced seniors mode up the backbone of the squod, bolstering the spirit of the majority who were out for their first vorsity ploy. With the seniors oll in the coptaincy together ond the rest of the team fighting injuries ond inexperience with oll their might, the record cannot be colled o foilure. It was teamwork, it was fun and Miss Ryon soys it was building for next year. We hope so. Good luck!

GIRLS' FIELD HOCKEY

Seniors and oll captoins
together: Dione, Posty, Almo ond Jone stond behind Jean, Barbaro, Jeon, Joan and Judy.

Varsity: E. Malaaf, P. Wallace, R. Tanaszuk, M. Jenkins, A. Robisan, Capt., I. Sears, C. Thampson, G. Cochran, J. Anderson, Miss Ryan.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

They say the greatest pain in life is the remembrance of glory that is past. If this is true, then the girls' basketball team has withstood the blow with remarkable sportsmanship and good humor. From their dazzling record of ten straight wins in '58 to another ten straight in '59—defeats! Beginner's luck, we told Miss Ryan who is new to Randolph, but no beginner to coaching. She cites the excellent playing of Alma Robinson, a four-year court star and '59's captain, of Judy Anderson and Irene Sears. But a winning team needs the co-operation of more than its senior stars. Next year Miss Ryan hopes to bring up from the ranks of hopefuls another varsity and another championship. The Oracle wishes her luck.

Junior Varsity: row 1: K. Leary, M. Marrill, E. Harris, J. McNulty, capt. row 2: P. Hutson, B. Jasie, E. Harris, E. Lienard, S. Klein, capt., M. Ebbs, Miss Ryan.

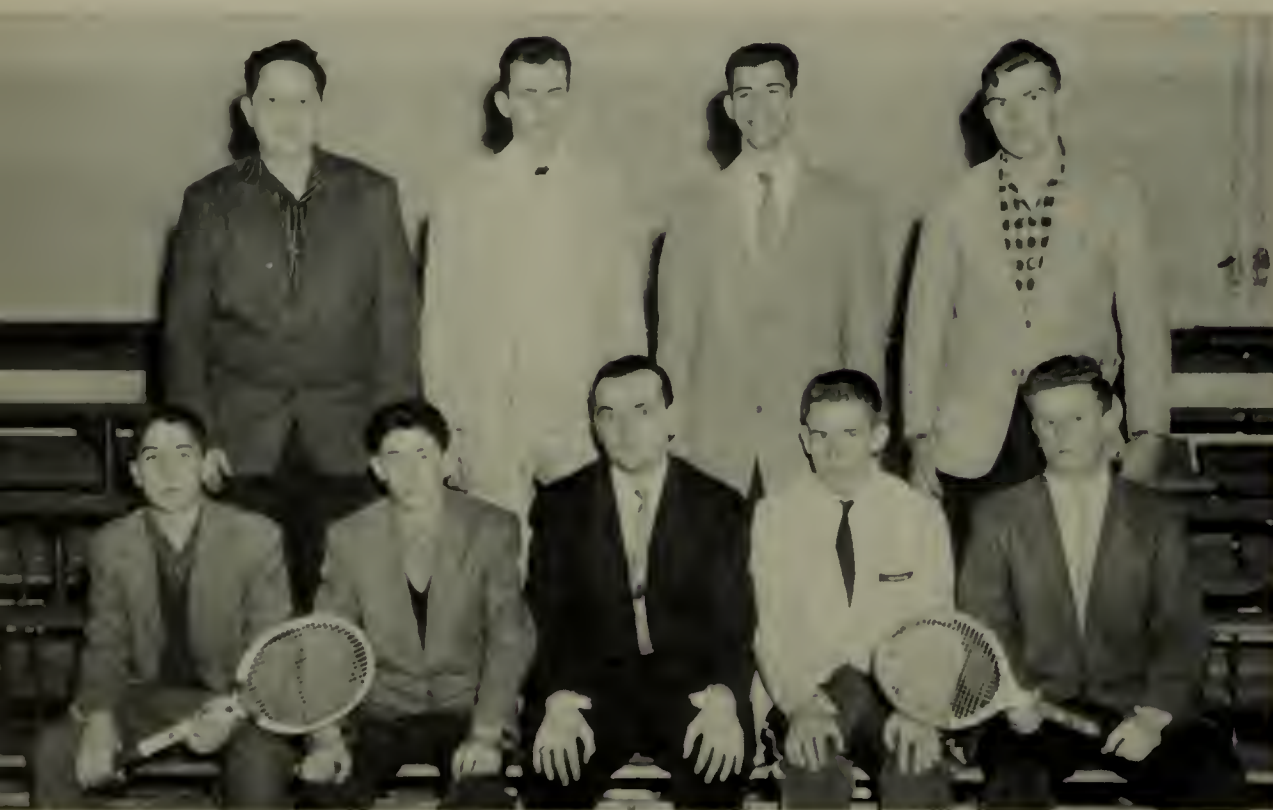

First row: Mr. Sherman, advisor, R. Gale, R. Alden, J. Gill, E. Douchette, Mr. Arsenault, advisor. Second row: J. Handrahan, W. Strickland, W. Kelly, R. Gale, J. Falcone. Third row: W. Lennon, J. Powers, D. Clapp, J. Walker, R. Wesson.

HOCKEY CLUB

Faster than the speed of light our hockey players travel to score goals.

TENNIS CLUB

First row: E. Tosin, G. Mann, Mr. Harrington, advisor, P. Harrigan, D. Kelley. Second row: P. Toffoloni, A. Cochran, R. Greil, R. Sawczuk.

And now, we face the future.
